Holidaying with an Oxygen Requirement

With planning, oxygen can be arranged at holiday destinations in the UK using the NHS system.

Getting oxygen for holidays in the UK

Your oxygen supply company will make arrangements for you to receive oxygen if you are going on holiday in the UK. Call them well in advance to discuss how they will handle your needs.

Holidays abroad

Many people with lung disease think they cannot travel abroad. This is not true. As of 1st of February 2006, your UK oxygen supplier has a duty to enable you to get oxygen abroad. Speak to them well in advance for details, including how to get help should you need it while on holidays. If travelling by car ask about any special equipment you may need to equip your vehicle with.
